Altars of Prayer

Just a reminder that the altars at the front of the church are not meant for exclusive use at the end of a service or only during an official "altar call". The altar is a place of personal communion with our Lord and a place to bring the burdens of our hearts to Him in a tangible and visible way for our own needs or for the needs of others. The altars are open during the morning prayer time if you feel led to bring things to the Lord in that manner. Who knows? The freedom with which you exercise that opportunity may be the encouragement someone else needs to approach the throne of grace themselves when God calls their hearts to come to Him in that way.

Be Sure to Check.....the Bulletin Board and Tables in the foyer for other helpful information, ministry opportunities and important and interesting publications, like Wesleyan World, Wesleyan LIFE, Wesley Light from the Word, VISTA, & World Hope Live!

Come Prepared!

Over the course of the next few months be sure to give God fertile ground to help you grow and get everything from His word that He intends for you. Come prayed up, read up and geared up to give God everything you're got and so your heart is opened up for His Holy Spirit as we explore these themes in our Sunday morning worship times:

Continuing on through July we will remain in the early part of the book of Genesis, learning the foundational truths revealed to us in the account of the creation and times leading up to the patriarchal period of bible history.

During the month of August we will visit the books of Mark, Titus, Luke and 2 Corinthians to examine the impact that our lives can and should have on the lives of others as Christ calls us to reach a world in need of His grace and love in a series I have dubbed "Deep Impact".

Something is always brewing with Jesus. In September through November we will dive into the book of Hebrews to explore the work that He is percolating in our lives, when without Him we would all stay a bunch of hopeless "drips".

As we spend the next few months preparing for the work God wants to do inside of each and every one of us, let's pray that we will finish out the year celebrating the Advent of our Lord with a new excitement we have never known with many friends we do not even know yet!

“CORE VALUES”

JULY–AUGUST 2009

“The Spirit of the Sovereign LORD is on me, because the LORD has anointed me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim freedom for the Captives and release from darkness for the prisoners, [2] to proclaim the year of the LORD's favor and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all who mourn, [3] and provide for those who grieve in Zion—to bestow on them a crown of beauty instead of ashes, the oil of gladness instead of mourning, and a garment of praise instead of a spirit of despair. They will be called oaks of righteousness, a planting of the LORD for the display of his splendor. [4] They will rebuild the ancient ruins and restore the places long devastated; they will renew the ruined cities that have been devastated for generations. [5] Aliens will shepherd your flocks; foreigners will work your fields and vineyards. [6] And you will be called priests of the LORD, you will be named ministers of our God. You will feed on the wealth of nations, and in their riches you will boast. [7] Instead of their shame my people will receive a double portion, and instead of disgrace they will rejoice in their inheritance; and so they will inherit a double portion in their land, and everlasting joy will be theirs.” - Isaiah 61:1-7

INDEPENDENCE DAY!

You may be thinking, “Boy, Pastor Dan, you sure did put a lot of scripture at the top of this page! And haven't you written pieces from this passage before?” I think you would be right on both counts. But I am going this way anyway, not because I am too lazy to write another long column or come up with something more original. Besides, God's Word is sharper than any two-edged sword and always speaks to our hearts.

No, here is why I am quoting this passage. First of all, it is the passage Jesus read from to announce His public ministry in Luke chapter four. Secondly, it spells out our mission and identity as a church. It is just over one year since we made the move to the new church building and changed our name to New Beginnings Wesleyan Fellowship, and we can proclaim, as Jesus did, that our mission is to do what He did as we introduce people to the redeeming work He accomplished on the cross for us which brings not only forgiveness for sins and eternal life, but a fresh start every day in the life we enjoy on earth. We are to bind up the broken-hearted, bring freedom to those who are captive to sin and addictive behaviors, and shine the light of God's Word into the darkness of hearts as yet unreached by God's love. We are to proclaim the favor of God on His beloved, the truth of His judgment with a promise of redemption for believers. We are to bring comfort to those who suffer loss and help those who have experienced defeat in life to find joy, beauty and purpose in life. In short, we are to help people find that a relationship with Jesus Christ brings new hope, new life and new beginnings.

In the past few days, I have finished our annual statistical reporting to the denomination (which I think you all know is not my favorite thing to do in life), and in looking back over the last year it has been a joy to see that besides recognizing our purpose, we can also claim promises that are listed in this passage of scripture. Earned or not, our church at one time had a reputation outside these walls as being a group sometimes at odds with itself and sometimes not very unified or welcoming. But we are steadily gaining a witness as a body who strives and overcomes together, bears with one another and seeks to offer grace, forgiveness and love to all. We have been blessed in that some who were not even a part of our fellowship a short year ago are dearly loved additions to our church family and finding ways to serve God in the work of His church. We have seen numerous salvations and recommitments to Christ. And as I look at our financial report for this past year, I see that not only has God been faithful to meet our needs, but obviously His people have been faithful to be His vessels in doing so. In spite of the tumultuous economy, this group of servants have met the challenge of rising utilities and insurance costs, kept up with rising operational costs and still increased our outreach, upped our education and ministry funding, raised our level of giving to missions and stayed current on a $24,000 a year payment on our new facilities. Our worship attendance is up, we were blessed with a new parsonage, and a new church is now worshipping in our old facility providing new outreach into the Hispanic population here and a double portion of God's love is made available through the church plant on our old campus and here in our new church. We are indeed blessed!

As we prepare to celebrate again the birth of our country and the independence from tyrannical rule we enjoy, let us be mindful of the great Independence Day we have experienced when on the cross Jesus Christ broke the shackles of sin we wore. Remember your chains and remember your chains are gone! And let us always remember those still living in those chains whom He has called us to bring freedom to. Pray that as God is blessing us, we will find new ways to bless others that they may see the splendor of Christ and know the truth that will set them free! To paraphrase a popular song, “Let Freedom ring, let the white dove sing . . . roll the stone away, it's Independence Day!

In His gentle yoke,

Pastor Dan
